

MathLinks

TASKS

Task are bigger problems, involving multiple steps and sometimes research in order to be completed. They are a great way to practice critical thinking skills and perseverance. To get started, pick a topic area that you would like to work on, then pick a task from that topic. Some will take more time to finish than others, but keep working. Once a task is completed, it could be a great activity to share with family.